Part 1 Planning:

I'd like to do something related to computer development later in my life. I'm not sure exactly what I'd like to do though, so I'm trying a few different things. So far I've taken a liking to java and html. Web development and game development both sound fun and interesting, but come with caveats. In terms of html, I'd like to develop websites for bands, so the site will; feature a page with some information about my favorite band, Joywave. It will also feature a page with my education on it. It will feature my school accomplishments, where I'm enrolled, and some of the coding languages I know.
